BURMA PETROLEUM. An exceedingly interesting roport on the net olenm industry in Upper Burma, compiled by De Frita Noetling, of the Geographical Survey of India has just been issued from the Secretariot Prous. Dr. Nocting brings together some very interesting information. A comparative Bussis, and Hurma for five years shows how utter aide the K weighen Islands, and was foliad that. The evicence for the presention was then came an opportunity of silvenium and a first much present the industry there could again at daylight on the 22nd passed. An Arch restaurant heeper testification of an afficer, high distributed arrived and a increased from ten in the production of Russia has increased from ten in the production between much present and a increased from ten in the production between much present and a increased from ten in the production between much present and a increased from ten in the production between much present and a present and a increased from ten in the production between much present and a presen ing with totals which are the merest fractions of those in America and Pussis. We come petitor at all for the foreign trais. Indeed we do not even supply our own wants but import large quantities of reflaced oil from America, The total preduction of Burma in 1886 was 41,536 barrels, and in 1690 it had increased to 124,420 barrels, least that is, thun a two-hundredth part of the production of America in 1889. As to the luture, Dr. Noetling in very cautious in his statements. The discriminates between the Wchai Wareh'se Co. native wells and those worked on the Buropean Warson & Co., A. S., will hold it own But the cheapseing of the however, another mistorium which may befull

> WING FAT CHEUNG ON HIS DUFENCE.

Mr. Lak Yang Chun, whose hong name is Wing Fat Chenng, forwards to us the following statement, which he desires should be published in order to present his side of the qu stion. He was, it will be remambered, with the Messra. Roque, of Haiphong, Tonkin (whose compradors he was at the time) when they were captured by the pirate I nu-ky in the spring of 1890, and he was strongly suspected and aponly necused of not ransomed. But his statement, which is therefore holds the truth in expressing plainly Since the 1st year of Kwong Sz. I went to a French merchant named V. Roque arriving at Hainhong in keeping steamer business, saw me to be both honest and able to be trusted; he soon became good friend with me and accompanied with in carrying on business being of advantage of Kwong, Mr. V. Roque asked with me to go to Donetries (Tang Chin) in examining the coal mine, where I and he were caught by the nativerobbers. After taking money from each one's own purse in redseming "ne's body out of the thinges went home. On the ground of being seized I was frightened in such a and terror, that ter, my family informed mathat Mr. V. Roque that he had treated so kind as if I were his flesh and blood (consanguinity). It seemed that he could not do such a thing without conscience. Moreover I was informed that he had gone bome a few months. Should be be back, he would conscionable thing as that. > ANOTHER RISING IN TERHUA DISTRICT: FUKLEN.

On the 10th September there were all sorte of sprinises as to what the fighting in Sarvage might be about. The officials kept the information, as they often do on all such matters, strictly secret, and the Tea Honga were only wired the fact that fighting was going on, and that the c. gates of a town (now known to be Sha-balen) 13,772.23 had been closed. so that the pature of the dis-9.53 Tek-hun force having fulfilled the purpose their expedition, namely in securing the head of

ANOTHER DISASTROUS OVERFLOW OF THE YELLOW RIVER

The Daily News say, that news has reached Shanghai that the Yellow River has again burstcertain the exact locality. The news came from Yangkokow, a straw-braid port on the south era shore of the Golf of Pachili. This town is on a river which is connected with the Yollow River by a senal, and the current from the Yellow River was flowing past Yangkokow at the rate of six or seven miles an hoor. A mission ary who had come in from the flooded district stated that no less than twelve towns had been washed away, but that as the water advanced slowly the people had time to remove, so that not many lives were lost. It is recorted that the fluods have extended to three provinces.
